

MEET OUR NEW SENIOR SPONSORSHIP OFFICER

JULIE BOURNE

Born and raised in England, Julie first came to Los Angeles intending to stay just one year—but quickly fell in love with the city, the film industry, and the spirit of the United States.

Her early career placed her at the heart of Hollywood where she held key roles at Carolco Pictures, home to Rambo, Terminator 2, The Doors, and Basic Instinct and served as Vice President at Daniel Melnick and Allen Shapiro's The Indieprod Company (L.A. Story, Mountains of the Moon). Julie became part of the Centropolis team, contributing to global hits like Stargate and Independence Day.

After relocating to the East Coast, Julie discovered a new calling in fundraising for the performing arts. At The Ridgefield Playhouse, she found that her diverse industry experience translated seamlessly into development work, mentored there by Executive Director Allison Stockel. Most recently, she served as Director of Development at Sacred Heart University Community Theatre in Fairfield, Connecticut. Julie is delighted to once again collaborate with Executive Director Allison Stockel and honored to support the extraordinary vision of GLAZER HALL founders, Jill and Avie Glazer.

GLAZER HALL has many sponsorship opportunities. If you would like to participate in our inaugural season by sponsoring an extraordinary performance, event, or even an opening celebration (i.e. luncheon, cocktail party, etc) and show your support for the arts and our community, please contact Julie and our team at sponsorships@glazerhall.org.