DONOR SPOTLIGHT: LIZZIE & JONATHAN TISCH

Few people are as committed to advancing the arts as Lizzie and Jonathan Tisch! As one of GLAZER HALL's earliest and most visionary supporters, their generosity is honored with deep appreciation. In recognition of their generosity, the men's and women's restrooms will proudly bear their name.

"We, like many in South Florida, are very excited about GLAZER HALL opening as part of the long-awaited renovation of the Royal Poinciana Playhouse. Jill and Avie's vision for this unique and historic facility will allow for performances, shows, concerts, and all types of culture to be presented in a unique and dramatic setting. We are excited and proud to be involved in this remarkable project." – Jonathan Tisch

The Tisch family's tremendous philanthropy is well known in the world of education, health care, and the arts. Jonathan, former CEO of Loews Hotels and co-owner of the New York Giants, is a leading advocate for civic engagement and cultural institutions, including the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Citizenship and Public Service at Tufts University. Lizzie, a tastemaker and entrepreneur, is celebrated for her influence in fashion and culture, notably through the Lizzie and Jonathan Tisch Gallery at The Costume Institute at The Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"Lizzie and Jonathan Tisch are significant supporters of the arts and philanthropists in the truest sense of the word. We are honored to have them involved with GLAZER HALL and truly appreciative of their support." – Jill Glazer

Together, Lizzie and Jonathan are dedicated supporters of institutions that enrich communities and inspire creativity. We are profoundly grateful for their support of GLAZER HALL.
