DONOR SPOTLIGHT: JUDY GOODMAN

As one of the earliest supporters of GLAZER HALL, Judy Goodman—together with her late husband, J. John Goodman, MD—has long championed meaningful arts initiatives. Her belief in the power of performance, community, and creative expression mirror the very spirit of GLAZER HALL. A Palm Beach resident for more than fifty years, Judy has long been one of Palm Beach County's most steadfast cultural champions. A retired attorney and the first executive director, and later Board Chair, of what is now the Cultural Council for Palm Beach County, Judy is a devoted advocate for the arts whose influence can be felt across the region's creative landscape. Judy, who is a Life Trustee of both the Kravis Center and the South Florida Fair, immediately saw the vision of GLAZER HALL and jumped on board as a supporter. For that, we will be honoring her with a plaque in the North Gallery of the venue.

"If we are in a position to be supportive of the arts, we all should find a way. GLAZER HALL clearly brings a whole different dimension to performing arts! The intimate setting that it offers is important, and it will bring the community together." —Judy Goodman

"Just as Judy has done throughout her life, she continues to lift up the arts, and we're deeply thankful for her generosity and her belief in what GLAZER HALL will mean to the community." —Jill Glazer
