JOHN AND JANA SCARPA

For John and Jana Scarpa, GLAZER HALL represents far more than a performance venue. It represents a place where generations gather, where creativity and education intersect, and where the arts continue strengthening the communal architecture of Palm Beach for years to come. The plaque in the Grand Lobby honoring their support of GLAZER HALL's life safety infrastructure reflects that philosophy:

"The John F. Scarpa Foundation Honors the generosity of John and Jana Scarpa in proud support of the Palm Beach Police and Fire-Rescue Departments and in gratitude for their enduring service to public safety with appreciation to GLAZER HALL a cornerstone of culture and community in the Town of Palm Beach."

For John and Jana Scarpa, the magic of live performance is something everyone should experience, and they are deeply committed to ensuring that the arts remain accessible to people from all walks of life. By supporting inclusive programming, they aim to inspire creativity and curiosity in younger generations during their most formative years. As a pioneer in the cable and cellular industries, John knows firsthand that innovation and resilience are the foundations of both enterprise and philanthropy. Through their foundation, John and Jana continue to enrich lives and build stronger communities.

"I believe that meaningful success should create future opportunities for others. Whether in business, education, healthcare, or community initiatives, I believe long-term impact comes from supporting efforts like GLAZER HALL, that improve lives and help communities flourish."

— John Scarpa

"We are incredibly grateful to John and Jana for their support and belief in GLAZER HALL and our mission to inspire audiences of all ages and deepen human connection through the arts."
